The dark forest represents the unconscious - a place within us that is mysterious to us. Thomas Paine declared, "We have it in our power to begin the world all over. Of course, we believe now that each such life was a story and that the Greeks simply didn't know how to tell it.

The cinders suggest light and passion. In the west, and especially in the United States, four myths have shaped us: Overcoming feelings of oppression is a task worthy of the effort. Teamwork can become both more efficient and more significant as our increasingly complex world requires a level of response and innovation beyond the capacity of any single team member. Edges, Peaks, and Vales: There is a moment early in the mythic journey referred to as the Call. I gained perspective on the intersections of Campbell, Hillman, and Jung which helped me during my analysis process.
