While I loved the first one, namely 'Only Time Will Tell', the second one 'The Sins of the Father' dragged so much in the climax, it became almost impossible to complete. He joins the Barrington Shipping company as a member of the Board and tries to bring down the company from the inside using insider stock trading and manipulating certain elections, but eventually fails. Ending with another great cliffhanger, Archer weaves an ever-evolving tale sure to keep the reader begging for the next novel to sate their curiosity.

Only Jeffrey Archer can weave such a fine tale with so many twists and turns and This author has more than his share of critics and that's only to be expected. This series is perfect for audio because I feel like I'm being told a real tale. The fate of the Cliftons and Barringtons remains a mystery as Archer moves forward, which only adds to the series' greatness.

End will be they all meet an accident in a ship in Atlantic. The author concludes the student's circle of friends are Hugh Pilaster; Hugh's older cousin Edward, dissolute heir to the Pilaster banking fortune; and Micky Miranda, the handsome son of a brutal South American oligarchy. Based on the negatives reviews of this book I almost didn't purchase it.
