Flipper Feet: Understanding and Caring for Flat Feet - Awake & Alive

Over many years different animals have adapted with fins and flippers. Webbed feet aren't fins or flippers so think about animals like otters or birds. They go in.

If you have never used fins before or your ankles are weak (in your foot can cramp up if you deliberately point your toes when you swim.

Full-footed fins have soft, flexible foot pockets which completely surround the divers feet, including his heels. These fins are usually worn.

The Lunocet is a hydrofoil for your feet, a kind of swishing fishtail that will propel you through the water like Aquaman.
